Man's First Landing On The Moon Voted Top News Story Of 1969

NEW YORK (UPI) — Man's first landing on the moon was the top news story of 1969 and of the decade in the opinion of North American newspaper editors polled by United Press International.

The top two news stories of 1969 were all of domestic origin or connected with the Vietnam War, which was second to the July flight and moon landing of Apollo 11.

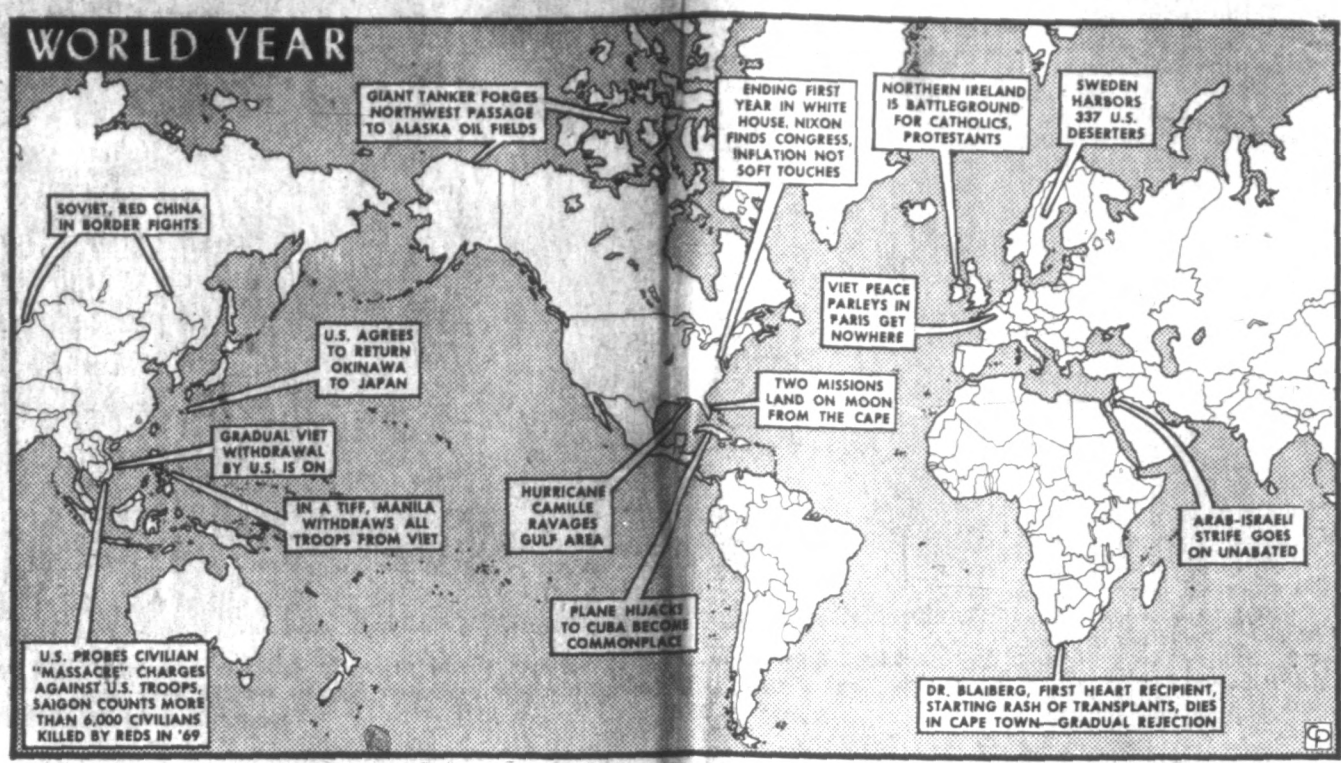

Following in order were Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's tragedy at Chappaquiddick, youth unrest and activism including the Vietnam moratorium, the alleged massacre at Song My, softening of the U. S. economic situation, resignation of Justice Abe Fortas from the U. S. Supreme Court, the Senate's refusal to confirm Judge Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., to the Supreme Court, Hurricane Camille, and U. S. racial unrest.

On the list of the most worldshaking stories of the 1960s, the assassination of President John F. Kennedy edged the Vietnam War for second place. The black revolution in the United States was in fourth position.

They were followed by the Cuban missile crisis, student unrest and activism at home and abroad, Richard M. Nixon's comeback to win the 1968 presidential election, the Bay of Pigs, Lyndon B. Johnson's decision not to run for re-election, and the worsening of the Arab-Israeli conflict.

The top 10 stories for 1969 were:

1. Man lands on the moon; the flight of Apollo 11.
2. Vietnam War: Nixon orders troop reductions, Paris talks flounder, antiwar demonstrations continue at home.

7. Justice Abe Fortas quits Supreme Court in scandal.
8. Senate refuses to confirm Clement F. Haynsworth Jr. to Supreme Court.
9. Hurricane Camille devastates Gulf Coast.
10. U. S. racial unrest.

Seen & Heard Around Murray

The risk of dying among middle age men is lowest on the Great Plains of the United States, and highest on the east coast. If we lived on the east coast we would be tempted to move to the Great Plains.

Three Squirrels yesterday chasing one another, glisterly, however, on ice covered branches.

Fellow says that now that Christmas is over, he has a see through wallet.

Our New Year's resolution is not to make any New Year's resolutions.

We take this opportunity to wish Mrs. Gladys Scott a good new year.

And to Mayor Holmes Ellis, as many solutions as he has problems in city government.

And a thank you to Wayne Doran, his crew and his predecessor, Jack Bryan, for riding a tight rein on natural gas regulations.

And to Rex Billington, for a standstill job with the Sanitation System in spite of an adverse situation which made equipment replacement almost an impossibility. This situation has been corrected now.

And to City Clerk Stanford Andrus for the orderly and efficient manner in which he conducts the city office.

And to Chief of Police James Brown for "taking hold" of his job.

And to Fire Chief Flavil Robertson for operating under difficult conditions.

And to Buddy Ferguson for his operation of the electric system. And to John Trotter for his interest, effort and ability with the water system.

The only time people think about some of these systems, is when something goes wrong. This is a tribute to the operation of the city systems.

Liars Give Awards

BURLINGTON, Wis. (UPI) — Now that the most momentous events which occurred in 1969 have been chronicled in their order of impact at year's end, A. Wundewald of Pura Ti, Switzerland, has come in for special recognition.

The Burlington Liars' Club, which annually recognizes the most outrageous prevarication of the past 12 months, cited Wundewald for his comment about the weather.

He said it was so cold in Pura Ti in August "that the sable furs ran after the ladies."

Runnerup for "World's Champion Liar of 1969" was Lou Powers, Ortonville, Minn., who said, "We had an awful lot of snow this winter — seven blizzards so far."

"After the last storm my hired man had to dig down through 15 feet of snow in order to oil the windmill," he said.

"I dug for a well for my hunting cottage on Rush Lake, Wisconsin," said E. Steinbach, Mayville, Wis.

"The water was so hard that I used it to fill up chuck holes in the road leading to the location."

James F. Gross of Milwaukee said this one.

"Our home here in Milwaukee this January has been so cold that the air entering the furnace had to be pre-heated. Otherwise it cooled the air to the point where it froze out."

Charles H. Gilbert, Green Bay, said his wife "bought a miniskirt this past summer; and it was so mini that every time she washed it she had to stitch on a piece of cloth so it would be large enough to use one clothes pin to hang it out to dry."

Saunders Is Named 'Coach Of The Year'

B. J. Saunders, former Murray, has been named "Coach of the Year" in Savannah, Ga., after taking his Savannah Country Day Hornets to the state championship, Class C in Georgia.

The Hornets won the state championship on December 6, besting Adairsville, Ga., 16-0 in Rome, Ga. The team went undefeated through the season with only one tie to blemish its record.

The Savannah Morning News Evening Press had these quotes about Coach Saunders:

"Coach Bill Saunders' unbeaten SCD Hornets, sporting a regular season string of 19 straight wins, wrapped up the Class C championship in Rome several days ago. Rated No. 1 throughout the season, SCD beat Adairsville 16-0, in a freezing rain which left the field a muddy mess."

"By now Saunders and his Hornets had time to relax and enjoy the fruits of victory."

"How does it feel? The question was tossed to Saunders last week at his small office which seems burdened with "Coach of the Year" plaques from the Georgia High School Association."

"It feels great," the likeable coach quipped with a big smile across his face. "Our boys played a tremendous football game and beat the daylight out of a fine football team."

"Saunders' record for twelve seasons at SCD is 72-26-7. He's had unbeaten years four times, but has never coached a perfect season. The Class C school year after year has played teams in much higher classifications."

Mr. Saunders is a graduate of Murray High School and Murray State where he lettered in basketball and football at both places. He is married to the former Charlene Orr of Murray and they have four children, Cindy, age 15, Shan, age 13, Chris, age 11, and Russ, age eight. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Saunders, Vine Street, Murray.

Airman First Class Dan Jones is now stationed at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas. His wife, the former Vickie Fletcher of Anchorage, Alaska, is with him there.

The Murray Air Force man and his wife just left Murray after his spending thirty days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Jones, and his sister, Miss Mary Ann Jones, Fairlane Drive.

A1c Jones volunteered for the Air Force in July 1968 and took his basic training at Amarillo, Texas. He has been stationed in Anchorage, Alaska, for two years and four months before his last leave.

He and Miss Fletcher were married November 2, 1968, and she joined him for the Christmas holidays with his family before they left for Texas.

Burley Sales Postponed

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI) — The resumption of burley to tobacco sales over the eight-state "Burley Belt" has been postponed again — from Jan. 8 to Jan. 12.

The Burley Tobacco Sales Committee met here Tuesday and announced the decision to postpone the post-holiday sales.

Reynold Bell, of Paris, Ky., chairman of the committee, said the action was taken because, "there is just too much tobacco on the floors of warehouses which will not be removed by Jan. 8."

The markets throughout the eight-state burley producing area closed earlier this month. They originally had been scheduled to reopen Jan. 5 but were postponed earlier this month until Jan. 8.

Much of the burley still on warehouse floors was purchased under the federal price-support loan program. Leaf falling under the federal price support figure goes into the burley "pool" for resale later.

Bell said the committee felt "an orderly market should be maintained by allowing the stocks on the warehouse floors to be processed."

First Rate Increase In Twelve Years

The Murray City Council last gave the first reading to an ordinance which increases rates in the city for natural gas. This is the first rate increase for the Natural Gas System since it was formed twelve years ago.

The reason for the rate increase as explained at the meeting, was an adjustment upward by the supplier, Texas Gas Transmission Company. Mayor Ellis pointed out that the system has absorbed rate increases from Texas Gas in the past, but that a recent increase made it mandatory that some increase be passed on to the gas user.

Under the new rate schedule, the minimum monthly charge to residences and small commercial firms will be $2.00. Medium commercial firms will pay a minimum of $6.10 and large commercial firms a minimum of $8.50 per month.

The full rate schedule will be published in Friday's Ledger and Times.

The council gave a second reading to the ordinance which sets salaries for city employees and the first reading to the ordinance setting new natural gas rates.

Postponed last night was the first reading of the city automobile sticker ordinance — and the employment of city personnel. City Attorney Wells Overbey pointed out that the new council should pass on the employment of city personnel. The new council will assume office in January and this will be their first order of business.

Taylor Motors was the low bidder on a new dump truck for the Murray Street Department. Taylor Motors' bid for the truck was $3500 on a new Dodge truck. Parker Motors bid $3632.27 on a Ford truck and Dwayne Taylor Chevrolet bid $3,999.12 on a Chevrolet.

A 1962 International will be traded in on the new truck. Art Lee was named as radio dispatcher for the Police Department on the night shift.

Councilman C. W. Jones suggested that the state be requested to put up lane marker signs at 12th and Main streets.

Councilman Jones, Chairman of the Police Committee suggested that city police and firemen receive four paid holidays each year. It was pointed out if a policeman or fireman was on duty, he would get paid double time and if he was off

Air Travel Tiring As a Stagecoach Ride, Doctor Says

LONDON (UPI) — Long-distance air travel is about as restful as riding a stagecoach, Dr. George Christie said yesterday after the first phase of an experiment on the effect of air flights and "jet lag" on humans.

"There won't be any scientific conclusions for three to four months," he said.

"It is purely an impression, but looking at data and the people involved, I think it takes about four to five days to adapt," he said.

Christie is medical director and head of research for Syntex Pharmaceuticals, Ltd. The British firm is conducting the experiment, supported by Trans World Airlines.

They began the study to find what effect long airplane flights with extreme changes in time had on the ability of individuals to function and make decisions. The study was aimed especially at businessmen, airline pilots and politicians.

"My impression of the time it takes to adapt is very much longer than is normally thought," Christie said. "Most businesses give 24 to 48 hours to recover. Politicians act as though it did not take any time at all."

FOURTEEN people, including eight women, flew from London to San Francisco Nov. 10. They remained there 10 days then flew back to London.

While in California and for five days after returning, Christie's assistants tested and probed the volunteers every four hours, 24 hours a day.

A huge amount of data resulted after the 14-hour flight across eight time zones.

"Scientific analysis will take time," Christie said. "We have 15 miles of graph paper, 50 gallons of urine and 14 pints of plasma to analyze."

THE HUMAN guinea pigs ranged in age between 20 and 40-years-old and included businessmen, airline pilots, a psychology student, a medical and a clinical technician, the doctor said.

The group will take another flight in May to check results of the first flight, he added.

"We may go to San Francisco again or we may turn it around and go to Hong Kong," Christie said. "We will decide after that whether another flight is necessary."

Today is Wednesday, Dec. 31, the 365th day of 1969 and there are none to follow this year. It is New Year's Eve.

The moon is in its last quarter.

The morning stars are Venus and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1879, Thomas Edison gave the first public demonstration of the incandescent lamp in Menlo Park, N.J.

In 1890, Ellis Island in New York harbor became the receiving station for immigrants from Europe.

In 1940, Adolf Hitler sent a message to his Nazi forces predicting "The year 1941 will bring consummation of the greatest victory in our history."

In 1943, Frank Sinatra opened an engagement at New York City's Paramount Theatre and promptly became the idol of the nation's bobby soxers.

In 1946, President Harry Truman proclaimed the official end of World War II.

A thought for the day: British poet George Chapman said, "Young men think old men are fools, but old men know young men are fools."

West Virginia Posts 14-3 Victory In Muddy Peach Bowl

BY DAVID MOFFITT
UPI Sports Writer

ATLANTA (UPI)—Eddie Williams never figured on getting to play very much in Tuesday night's Peach Bowl Game. But because it was raining pretty hard Tuesday night, and anyway the Mountaineers' top two wide receivers were ailing, West Virginia Coach Jim Carlen brought out the Texas-style "wishbone" offense he was saving for next season and went with three running backs — Bob Gresham, Jim Braxton and Williams. The stumpy, 210-pound Williams responded by running for 208 yards in 35 carries through the ankle-deep mud to lead West Virginia to a 14-3 victory over the South Carolina Gamecocks.

Gresham and Braxton, West Virginia's bread and butter men during a 9-1 season, also earned their keep. Gresham gained 98 yards on 16 carries, including a 10-yard touchdown jaunt with the game only 5:36 old and the 226-pound Braxton had 60 yards in 20 carries, including the Mountaineers' last yard of the game — a one-yard touchdown plunge with only 23 seconds left in the game.

South Carolina's Coach Paul Dietzel was reluctant to blame the weather for the fact that South Carolina's offense was limited to three points — on little Billy Dupre's 37-yard field goal with 3:49 left in the first half.

A crowd of 48,452 (more than 54,000 purchased tickets) sat through the second annual Peach Bowl — 13,000 more than last year — even though it by Jan. 12, the date for naming the Eastern and Western coaches.

Once again, Willis Reed, a cinch All-Star selection, led New York with 25 points and 20 rebounds. Walt Frazier added 21 points for the Knicks who have now held opposing teams under 100 points in 17 games. Chet Walker was high for Chicago with 19 points.

In other NBA action, Milwaukee downed Baltimore, 126-124. Cincinnati got by San Diego, 125-120; San Francisco rallied for a 105-100 triumph over Los Angeles; and Seattle beat Phoenix, 134-121.

Flynn Robinson's 35 points sparked Milwaukee past Baltimore and into second place in the East, a half game ahead of the Bulls. Lew Alcindor, hit for 28 points for the Bucks while Earl Monroe had 30 and Wes Unseld 29 for Baltimore.

A driving layup by Fred Foster and a field goal and free throw by Oscar Robertson in the final minute offset Elvin Hayes' nine-point spree which had enabled the Rockets to gain a 120-120 tie with Cincinnati with 1:18 left to play. Tom Van Arsdale led the Royals with 29 points and Robertson chipped in with 27. Hayes led all scorers with 31 points.

San Francisco, trailing at one time by 19 points, overcame the Lakers with the shooting of Nate Thurmond, Jeff Mullins and Fritz Williams. Thurmond scored 29 points while Mullins had 28 and Williams 23. Jerry West of Los Angeles, the NBA's leading scorer, had 34.

Seattle used a 44 point fourth quarter to down Phoenix. Tom Meschery led the Sonics' attack with 24 points and Bob Rule had 22 while Connie Hawkins paced the Suns with 37.

Announcement On Dickey Set Today

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—The question of whether football Coach Doug Dickey is leaving the hills of Tennessee to return home to the lowlands of Florida should be answered today.

A member of the University of Tennessee Board of Trustees, however, said Tuesday night the matter was settled. He said Dickey "definitely" would take the Florida post.

The University of Florida was expected to issue an announcement on the subject here at 9 a.m. EST. That announcement, sources said, would be that the 37-year-old Dickey will return to his alma mater as head football coach and that present Coach Ray Graves, 51, will devote full time to his duties as athletic director.

If that announcement comes as expected, the University of Tennessee is expected to follow with one of its own, naming Iowa State Coach Johnny Majors, an All-America (1956) tailback during his playing days at Tennessee, as Dickey's successor. Officials at both institutions have been trying to cover up the possible shifts since news of them leaked out, from the Tennessee end, more than a week ago.

Missouri, Penn State Are Toss-up

MIAMI (UPI)—A man who has battled them both rates the New Year's night Orange Bowl match between Penn State and Missouri a toss-up.

"I wouldn't bet on the game. It'll be that close. There's no favorite. It's a toss-up," says Vince Gibson, Kansas State's football coach.

Gibson's team lost to Penn State, 17-14, and to Missouri, 41-38. The scores are a reflection of what the Orange Bowl Game is supposed to amount to essentially: Missouri's offense against the Penn State defense. Kickoff is at 8 p.m. EST and the game, the only night game of the New Year's Day bowls, will be televised nationally (NBC). A full house of some 70,000 is expected for the 36th annual classic.

The winner will claim to be No. 1 in the nation, and that has made the preparations tense for the battle.

Either team could get behind and still pull the game out of the fire. Missouri came from behind to win seven of its nine victories this season. Penn State was trailing 14-0 going into the fourth quarter against Syracuse but pulled it out, 15-14 — the same score by which the Lions beat Kansas in the 1969 Orange Bowl Game.

Rose Bowl Rests On Quarterbacks

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI)—Through the years the presence of a poised quarterback has been the greatest asset of a Rose Bowl football team. Both Michigan and Southern California feel they are well equipped in that department for their New Year's Day game.

The responsibility of guiding a team in the Rose Bowl rests heavy on the shoulders of a quarterback. And Coach Bo Schembechler feels Michigan would not be in the New Year's Day classic were it not for 20-year-old Don Moorhead, a junior from South Haven, Mich. While there has been no question about Moorhead as an authentic leader of his team, Coach Joh McKay has been forced to come to the defense of his sophomore quarterback, Jimmy Jones, who has risen to greatness on occasions and at other times has been erratic — but never a loser.

Although other quarterbacks have gained the early season glory, there were few who disputed Schembechler's claim that Moorhead was the best man at his position in the Big Ten at the end of the season.

"On the afternoon we played Purdue and Ohio State, Moorhead outplayed both Mike Phipps and Rex Kern," Schembechler says.

Coolness under fire also characterizes Jones.

problems facing the American consumer.

When one of the almost billion appliances or 100 million automobiles breaks down, what can be done? Throw it away and buy a new one? Fix it yourself? Or prepare to fight the battle and pay the price?

BETTER Business Bureau report that service problems are their major source of complaints.

The company found that getting things repaired today often involves maddening delays, shoddy workmanship and startling expense. Incomplete and an "I don't care" attitude increasingly characterize repairmen.

The training of qualified personnel apparently cannot keep up with the growing number of appliances and automobiles. In the auto industry, for example, the number of vehicles has increased 100% in the last 20 years, while the number of mechanics increased little more than 20%. Carpenters, plumbers and electricians are just as hard to find.

PRICES FOR good repair work are high, but the consumer must be prepared to accept them. When phoning for a serviceman, the Better Business Bureau recommends asking for a quotation of the company's standard rates. If the rates seem too high, check elsewhere.

Good service just doesn't happen. Charges include not only wages of the repairman for his time on the job, but also the cost of his truck equipment, travel time and specialized training — which might have taken up to four years!

A spare parts inventory, office rent and equipment, utilities, taxes and insurance are all figured in the cost. Remember too, the company has to make a profit to stay in business.

TWELVE YEARS ago, the well-equipped appliance repairman went out with $100 worth of tools in his truck. Today that same repairman may carry as much as $3,500 worth of tools and equipment, much of it highly technical. Different repair parts—100,000 of them—are needed for cars now in use. There are 200 parts in a TV set that could cause a picture failure. Is it any wonder that an appliance parts distributor can have a $70,000 parts inventory?

Americans discard repairable items worth an estimated $18 billion every year. This is simply because it often makes no sense to get things fixed

Son's dogs upset his parents!

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am so disgusted I don't know which way to turn. Our son lives in another town. He has a degree from a leading university and is presently working on his Masters; however from the judgment he uses, one would never know he finished college.

Our son has always loved pets, and at present I am keeping and caring for about a dozen dogs, just because he likes them. He has these dogs at school, but when he comes home for week-ends, he brings the dogs with him.

I have recently installed wall to wall carpet, and not all his dogs are housebroken. My carpet is taking a beating, and the place smells like a kennel.

No one can say a word against his dogs or he flies off the handle. If I complain, he won't come home at all, which would bother his father and me more than it would bother him. So what can I do?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: You're doing it. Complaining to me.

DEAR ABBY: Margie's husband thinks HE has a problem because Margie has to call her bachelor boss at 7 a. m. every morning to wake him up. MY wife's boss calls HER every morning at 7 a. m. to tell her what he wants her to do that day when she gets to the office. He also calls her as soon as she gets home in the evening and DICTATES letters to her on the phone so she can have them ready the first thing the next morning.

So tell Marge's husband that I know how he feels. I also wish I had my wife all to myself at home.

SIGN ME "TEX"

DEAR TEX: Stop wishing. Tell your wife to quit her job and stay home. [Or do you like the income, Tex? Forgive me.]

DEAR ABBY: I am 37 years old, stand 4' 11" and have been married for 20 years. I have four children, ages 19, 18, 7 and 2. I still weigh the same as I did when I was married—102!

To give you an idea of the way I live, I rise early, clean my house, and then get busy on my meals. I am told I am an excellent housekeeper, cook, and mother. I paint, sew, lay tile, garden. You name it, I've done it. I have never neglected my husband sexually either. In other words, he spends his evenings at home with me.

I am sick to death of hearing my friends and neighbors exclaim in amazement, "I don't know how you do so much!" Well, I can tell them how. I get up and begin, that's how. Sick or well, I begin.

Recently I met a 22-year-old mother of two. She weighed in the neighborhood of 170 pounds. After looking at me, she said, "You look so young and trim. I'll bet you never worked a day in your life." I laughed. [I had just spent the entire summer painting the interior of our house.]

I would like to tell all those hefty dames who envy the slim ones, "You can be slim, too, if you will get off your fat fannies and do something." Don't "dust" your kitchen floors, get down, and SCRUB them! Don't wait for your husband to find time to wash the windows, wash them yourself. I've washed windows for 20 years and it hasn't killed me yet.

It's a known fact that women outlive their husbands. And I know why! The husbands do their own jobs, come home, and do their wives', too. Sign me.

Baldwin Home Is Scene Of Shower For Bride-elect

Miss Connie Paulette Evans, January 10th bride-elect of Larry Nories Wilson, was complimented with a personal shower at the home of Miss Anettia Baldwin at Gold.

The shower was held on Friday, December 12, at seven o'clock in the evening.

For the occasion the honoree chose to wear from her trousseau a white knit dress trimmed in pink sequins. She was presented a corsage of carnations by the hostess.

The honoree was the recipient of many lovely gifts.

Refreshments of punch, cake, open face sandwiches, nuts, and mints were served buffet style from the beautifully appointed table. The decorations were in the Christmas motif.

Thirteen persons were present or sent gifts.

Smallpox On Decline

Cases of smallpox worldwide during the first six months of this year declined a dramatic 44%, compared with the same period of 1968.

At this rate, reports the World Health Organization, only two countries—Indonesia and the Congo—may show an incidence exceeding 5 cases per 100,000 population this year.

In the Americas so far this year, the only cases reported were from Brazil.

Soap and water care of window shades is necessary only infrequently if they are dusted or vacuumed at regular intervals. How often depends on whether one lives in the city, suburbs or country.

Dear Abby

Tell hubby to stop his 'progress' reports

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a problem that is positively driving me up a wall! Jim and I have been happily married for 22 years and have 3 children.

Recently, a good-looking 21-year-old girl came to work as a secretary in the same firm where my husband works. Jim said that this brazen girl let him know very soon that she was "fond of him"—and asked if he could get her transferred to his department. He told her no, he couldn't.

Now Jim tells me that every day she finds excuses to run into his office, and she leaves him little "love notes." Jim said that he explained to her that he was a happily married man, and she should quit bothering him.

Well, she hasn't quit, and now I am angry with Jim for not taking more drastic measures to get her out of his hair. Should I butt in? And if so, how? JIM'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: You ARE "in." Your husband has seen to that. You are being "driven up the wall" by Jim's daily reports—not his "problem." It seems to me that a grown man could find some way of discouraging a brazen girl from pursuing him so hotly. [Could it be that Jim is enjoying it?]

Tell your aging Lochinvar to tell the little office flirt to get lost. And tell him, too, to please discontinue the "progress reports."

DEAR ABBY: I was particularly amused at your answer to the newlywed who said that her husband wanted a night out with the boys, and wondered if that could be dangerous. Your reply, "It's not dangerous, as long as the boys are boys."

When I was a bride, I, too, faced that problem, and I said, "Fine, you have your night out with the boys. Enjoy yourself, but be fair, and give me equal time for a night out with the girls, and no questions asked on either side. All right?"

I guess this idea didn't appeal to him because I never heard another word about it.

That was a long time ago. My carrot colored curls have turned to gray, and next year we will celebrate our golden wedding anniversary. We are happily married, and he still calls me "Darling." EVE IN CLIFTON, N. J.

DEAR EVE: Congratulations. I think it's going to last.

DEAR ABBY: A mother wrote to say that when somebody asked her where her son was, she wished to God that she could say, he's living in a hippie colony in San Francisco, because then at least there would be some hope that he might straighten himself out and come home, but, instead he lies dead—killed in Viet Nam.

Please tell her for me that she is better off than I am. I would be proud to say that my son gave his life fighting for his country in Viet Nam. Instead he threw it away.

He was expelled from high school two weeks before graduation. He came home a few months ago looking so sick and dirty. He's only 19 and living hand to mouth. He said he's tried all the drugs but he didn't think he was "hooked" yet. Then he disappeared again not even knowing where he was going. And he tells us not to worry.

We don't sleep nights, expecting to hear any minute that he's in jail, has gone mad, has been murdered, or committed suicide. We hold little hope that he will come home safe and sane. In the meantime, when someone asks us where our son is, what do we say? A MOTHER, TOO (L. A., CAL.)

DEAR ABBY: Apropos your recent letter from "FOOLISH IN COLUMBUS," the widow who "loaned" her money to her children and never saw a dime of it again. I am reminded of a widow I knew years ago. After her husband's death the widow was left with $4,000 and four grown children. The children got together and decided to make mama an offer. If she would give them each $1,000, she could come to live with each one for three months every year. She said, "No, I ain't a'goin' to do it. Why—Because a widow woman with $4,000 is always more welcome anywhere than a widow woman who ain't got nuthin'." R. K., SAN DIEGO

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

OFFICIAL BIRD CENSUS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — One robin who failed to head south for the winter was found among the feathered population on the White House grounds in the first official bird census since President Theodore Roosevelt counted birds around the Executive Mansion. Results of the new bird count were disclosed Saturday by Fred G. Evenden, executive director of the Wildlife Society headquartered in Washington. Also spotted were three pairs of mockingbirds, one pair of cardinals, a blue jay, three fish crows, 69 english sparrows and 89 starlings.

WINDSOR LOCKS, Conn. (UPI) — A traveler whose flight was delayed at Bradley International Airport by the weather Saturday found another way of getting off the ground.

He walked into an airport bar, put a $100 bill on the counter and invited other snowbound passengers to join him.

"When I drink that up, let me know," he said. He boarded his flight $91.00 later, according to the bartender.

Proposed Wage Rate Is Opposed

Many of the nation's business owners and Congress can effect late against poverty.

The dismal record on poverty bears this out. And a new proposal for the federal minimum wage of $1.60 an hour to $2.00 offered as an anti-poverty measure, meets strong opposition from the business community. The National Federation of Independent Business.

The AFL-CIO and the Advisory Commission on Intergovernmental Relations both support the minimum wage increase. This effect have been by Senator Harrison of New Jersey and Representative John Dent of Pennsylvania. The nationwide poll of 15 percent of the business community support this proposal, express disapproval of the measure.

The returns from show 23 percent wage passed, 76 percent opposed and 1 percent have no opinion.

The dissent is large on the contention that the wage is increased as employers will not pay more than he is worth because of a government survey conducted by the National Federation of Independent Businessmen has a high level of job attrition every increase in standard.

Most affected are the with no work experience, the elderly, the handicapped, and the small towns and rural areas most affected.

Employers maintain that wages must be based on a worker adds to the economy. Besides the basic wage, are payroll taxes, fringe benefits and other costs would be recovered by the productivity.

While the inflation spiral seems to support an increase in the minimum wage, the nation's research staff would add to the inflation by increasing wages. Middle-income workers would expect commensurate increases, and organizations would press for even higher demands, researchers say.

As an anti-poverty measure, an increase of 25 percent minimum wage, as proposed, could backfire. It would increase unemployment, the young, the unskilled workers with limited ability would plunge deeper into poverty, and the nation's welfare program.

The Federation's survey of independent business shows that more than 40 percent of those who employed in 1966 have since been eliminated. Ten percent of these say they were due to the increase in minimum wage (effective January, 1968) and when it is projected, it indicates more than half a million jobs were eliminated.

reason, The wage standard discourages new job openings, the Federation asserts. The idea of legislating out of existence is a one, the Federation of Independent Businessmen has in the Federal minimum wage have fallen far from the promises made by proponents.

Proposed Wage Rate Is Opposed

Many of the nation's independent business owners doubt that Congress can effectively legislate against poverty.

The dismal record of the War on Poverty bears this out, many say. And a new proposal to raise the Federal minimum wage from $1.60 an hour to $2 an hour, offered as an anti-poverty measure, meets strong resistance from the businessmen polled by the National Federation of Independent Business.

The AFL-CIO and the National Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders both support a $2 standard minimum wage. Bills to this effect have been introduced by Senator Harrison Williams of New Jersey and Representative John Dent of Pennsylvania.

The nationwide poll shows only 15 percent of the business owners support this proposal, 78 percent express disapproval and 7 percent are undecided.

The returns from Kentucky show 23 percent want the bills passed, 76 percent oppose them, and 1 percent have no opinion.

The dissent is largely based on the contention that more jobs will be eliminated if the minimum wage is increased again, since employers will not pay a worker more than he is worth, simply because of a government edict. Surveys conducted by the National Federation among independent businessmen have shown a high level of job attrition following every increase in the wage standard.

Most affected are teenagers with no work experience, unskilled persons, the elderly and the handicapped. Geographically, small towns and rural areas are most affected.

Employers maintain that wages must be based on the value a worker adds to the business. Besides the basic wage, there are payroll taxes, fringe benefits and other costs which must be recovered by the worker's productivity.

While the inflation spiral would seem to support an increase in the minimum wage, the Federation research staff believes it would add to the inflation problem by increasing wage pressures. Middle-income workers would expect commensurate increases, and organized labor would press for even higher wage demands, researchers contend.

As an anti-poverty measure an increase of 25 percent in the minimum wage, as proposed, could also backfire. If it results in more unemployment among the young, the unskilled and others with limited abilities, it actually would plunge these persons deeper into poverty, adding to the nation's welfare problems.

The Federation's continuous survey of independent business shows that more than 40 percent of those who employed teenagers in 1966 have since reduced or eliminated teenage jobs. Forty percent of these say reductions were due to the increase in the minimum wage (effective in February, 1968) and when this data is projected, it indicates that more than half a million teenage jobs were eliminated for this reason. The wage standard also discourages new job opportunities, the Federation asserts.

The idea of legislating poverty out of existence is a popular one, the Federation observes, but on close examination increases in the Federal minimum wage have fallen far short of the promises made by their proponents.

VATICAN ASTIR This painting of a young man in a flowing robe is causing something of a stir at the Vatican in Rome. It hangs in the press office. The painting is of Mao Tse-tung, the Red China Communist chief, and was donated. By whom, nobody seems to know.

Destroying Public Schools
HEW'S Attack On Freedom of Choice

Parental rights and the cause of quality public education in the United States suffered a severe new blow recently when the Congress voted against the Whitten Amendment which would have prevented the Department of Health, Education and Welfare from cutting off funds to school districts that didn't go along with its plans.

HEW Secretary Robert H. Finch's opposition to the Whitten Amendment — indeed his all-out fight against the freedom of choice principle — also represents a breaking of faith with the millions of voters who heard and believed presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon promise support for freedom of choice school plans. It is deeply dismaying that President Nixon didn't abide by his campaign promise.

Nothing could be more American than the concept of freedom of choice in education. As worked out in practice, this concept means that a child attends the school his parents desire him to attend. It is the embodiment of individual freedom. Yet this freedom doesn't satisfy the ideologues in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. They apparently don't believe parents have any rights when it comes to school attendance. And they aren't satisfied with any school attendance plan that doesn't achieve strict racial balance.

Emotion, not reason, lies behind HEW's position. Certainly, there isn't any measure of justice in HEW's opposition to freedom of choice. As a matter of fact, HEW can't point to any standard of logic in espousing its school plans. If it is unjust to bar a student from a particular school because of his race, how can it be just to compel a student to attend a particular school in order to meet a fixed racial formula decreed by HEW? Obviously, HEW's approach isn't grounded in rationality or justice. Instead, it is grounded in politics and fanaticism — the notion that there must be carefully calculated mix of students of different racial groups in order for the ends of democracy to be served.

This is an absurd position.

COMMISSIONER MILLER
on Kentucky Agriculture

by J. Robert (Bob) Miller

It is customary for most people to pause at this time of year to reflect both upon the year passing and the one beginning. Giving an accounting of the progress made during the year is expected of elected officials, particularly those serving at the state level.

Not only have I concluded another year, but I have also reached the half-way mark of my tenure as Commissioner of Agriculture. While there have been areas where I would like to have accomplished more, nonetheless I look with satisfaction upon many achievements over the past two years.

It should be noted first of all that the Department has the constitutional role of being the administrative, promotional, regulatory and service agency for agriculture. This means that so much of the work performed by various divisions within the Department becomes routine and difficult to measure in terms of progress from one year to another.

In view of this it is hard to summarize activities of the department during the past two years. Stated briefly, I would list these as highlights:

Getting Hopkinsville Animal Diagnostic Laboratory into full operation; implementation of Meat Inspection Program; new equipment for Weights & Measures laboratory; completion of plans for million dollar animal disease diagnostic laboratory for Central Kentucky; initiation of Kentucky National Charolais Show and Sale; and new emphasis upon market development for Kentucky products.

I like to feel that regardless of whether the particular program be regulatory or promotional, it is still one of service to all the people—both rural and urban. For example, a regulatory program protects the consumer and in the long run serves the producer, manufacturer, or businessman by enabling the public to build confidence in the item or product in question.

Agriculture has problems in the days of inflated prices and small margins of profits, but so do many other industries. I only trust that despite tough economic conditions we can continue to progress in line with previous years and in accordance with the potential we have for agricultural growth and development.

Harper said the dropout rate and delinquency are significantly related. "Only one per cent of adult inmates show an achievement level equivalent to a high school graduate," Harper said, "but almost all showed a normal population intelligence curve."

"The best way to reduce adult criminality is to reduce juvenile crime," Harper added. "That is the reason the Kentucky Crime Commission has allocated $323,400 toward the problem of juvenile delinquency in Kentucky."

SNOWBOUND GOVERNOR — Vermont Gov. Deane C. Davis, snowbound in Framingham, Mass., keeps abreast of conditions in his state after record-breaking snow storm battered New England. Davis declared Vermont a disaster area as a result of a 45-inch snowfall.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The 1969 bear market's lows finally have been realized, judging from its recent technical action, says Wright Investors' Service. Blue chip leadership is strong, Dow Jones industrial average volume reached a new high during last week's rally, and the utilities are gaining noticeably more attention than at the earlier 1969 lows. The firm looks for growth in quality common stocks in 1970.

The real bear-market low was seen in late July and a base for a new bull market has since been unfolding, according to Trend & Value. The firm says this view can also be defended on the grounds that a shift to less severely restraining monetary policy seems to have become more likely, a cyclical trough in corporate post-tax earnings is in sight and both the monetary restraint and the earnings attrition appear to have been well over-discounted at current levels.

Seasonal patterns—as tax-loss selling pressures give way to normal reinvestment demand—should work in the market's favor during the next two or three weeks, says Goodbody & Co. The firm, however, does not look for a major or sustained advance at this time.

Investors anticipate a significant rise in stock prices after the first quarter of 1970, according to a survey conducted by Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis. Investors expect to see a worsening of business conditions in the first quarter, but also expect to increase their market activity during the quarter to take advantage of depressed prices, the survey indicated. Expectations of high stock prices after the first three months are based largely on anticipation of a major U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam, prospects for better business conditions, higher corporate profits, easier money and curtailment of inflation.

THE BANK OF MURRAY HAS A Plan To Build A Dream On

ANNOUNCING !!!

Effective January 1, 1970, the Bank of Murray will pay 5% on all certificates of deposit, with the interest being compounded daily and guaranteed for a period of five years. This 5% rate compounded daily on a 12 months certificate gives an annual effective yield of 5.125%. This rate is the highest effective yield any insured bank can pay.

In case interest rates for Bank of Murray certificates should go up, the interest on your certificate of deposit will also go up at the next maturity date. However, if interest rates go down, you will continue to earn 5% for the next five years.

It will not be necessary for our customers to bring in their certificates of deposit, as they are automatically covered at their next maturity date.

We are also proud to inform our customers that the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation has raised the insurance for each depositor to
